Worldwide Travel – What you need to know

This Option is designed to provide cover for certain events that might arise before or while travelling. It meets the demands and needs of those who wish to insure against cancelling a trip or coming home early, travel disruption, personal liability, and the need for emergency medical treatment.

2. Your partner is covered if aged between 18 and 70.

This Option will be removed from your HSBC Select and Cover policy on the policy anniversary following your 70th birthday. Your premium will be adjusted accordingly. Where the underwriter removes this Option due to you reaching the maximum age limit and it reduces the number of Options in your selection to fewer than three, cover will remain in force for your remaining Options. If you subsequently choose to make any changes to your selection you must bring the number of Options selected to three or more, and you will need to keep three or more Options in place for the remainder of the period of cover.

The cover provided under this Option will cease for your partner on the policy anniversary following their 70th birthday or following your 70th birthday.

1. There is a limit to the trip duration which will be covered. This limit is shown on your current policy schedule.
2. For each section, Aviva will pay up to the limit(s) shown on your current policy schedule.
3. For some sections of cover Aviva won't pay the first part of an insured person's claim; this is called the excess and it will be shown on your current policy schedule where it applies. If an insured person is claiming under more than one section for the same incident, only the higher excess will apply. Where two or more people claim for the same incident, the most you will pay is twice the excess.

- the event or incident had already occurred or was going to occur; or
- the circumstances existed, or were going to exist, and the event, incident or circumstances could reasonably be expected to affect their travel plans.
